MAIN STREET PAVING DISCUSSED IN CITY COUNCIL'S MEETING

Aldermen will Meet Again on Monday Afternoon to Further Consider Matter. Sidewalks Also Come in.

In a lengthy session, yesterday afternoon, the city council approved one ordinance or an amendment thereto and consumed the balance of the time, with the audience, discussing several matters before the body.

The matter of paving Main street was one of the important questions taken up. The budget discloses that the council appropriated $900 to take care of the city's share of the paving on this thoroughfare. According to the trend of the discussion in the council a special committee of three from the commercial club will be solicited, which, with three members of the council, will determine if the property owners along that portion of Main street, effected by the new paving, would share proportion of the burden.

The matter of sidewalks for Tombstone Canyon was also broached. It is the consensus of opinion, among the aldermen, that this should be taken care of by the property owners along the street. This is the custom in other cities, throughout the country, and the aldermen do not see why the city, in Bisbee, should stand the expense. It may be the council will pass an ordinance compelling the building of walks.

Fortune tellers, in Bisbee from now on, will pay a license fee of $50 to operate, according to the one vote taken by the council yesterday.

A special meeting of the council will be held next Monday afternoon to take up the matter of paving and some other subjects which were not dispensed with at yesterday's meeting.

Rocho was taken into custody in Denver in 1911, it is said, but escaped from the officer. Before coming to Los Angeles Rocho resided in Fresno where he married last August.

COFFROTH ARRESTED.

SAN DIEGO, Jan. 4.—President Coffroth of the Lower California Jockey Club was arraigned on the charge of stabbing H. J. Moore during an argument. Coffroth claims the charge is made to prejudice public opinion against him as head of the Tin Juana Racing plant.

Coffroth was released on $500 bail. The preliminary hearing is set for January 13. Moore, who appeared in court with a bandaged neck, is the plaintiff in a suit filed recently in the superior court which asks that the corporation which Coffroth heads be dissolved. Moore said he visited Coffroth's office to get his mail. He alleges Coffroth called him names and then struck him in the neck with a paper knife.

YUMA NOW PROPOSES TO BUILD HIGHWAY TO NEW CORNELIA

City Officials Realize Importance of Establishing Traffic Link with Ajo town Which Has Big Future.

YUMA, Jan. 4.—A. J. Eddy appeared before the board of supervisors yesterday as a representative of the committee of three recently appointed by the Commercial Club to take the matter of building a road to the new town of Ajo up with the body of officials, and as a result the county engineer was instructed by the board to make a reconnaissance survey of the ground and report his findings as a basis of further action. The other members of the committee, who, however, could not be present, were A. B. Ming, chairman and Dr. J. A. Ketcherside.

The board received the proposition with open arms, seeming to realize the importance of the proposed action, and every member expressed himself as favorable to the proposition. In a few days County Engineer C. N. Hindman, A. B. Ming, A. J. Eddy, Supervisor Ike Probstel, and possibly some others, will start on a trip over the route for the purpose of determining the most feasible course for the proposed road. The trip will consume the greater part of a week's time, it being the desire of the engineer to give the matter an attention which will enable him to make proper estimates on a basis which will not be in error in any particular. When the trip and casual survey shall have finished, the matter will be taken up again by the board and some definite arrangements made for a new and practical road from Yuma to the new mining town, which will place this city in touch with a section of country the trade of which will be of great value.

It is noticeable in this connection, that Phoenix has already made a similar move, a committee from the Commercial Club of that city having just visited Ajo, where they made an investigation as to conditions and secured much data concerning a proposed road from the state capital to that point. If Phoenix builds a road to Ajo and Yuma should not, it would divert practically the trade of a rich section in that direction.

It is announced that the new railroad from Gila Bend to Ajo will be in at least preliminary operation by January 10, which is in advance of the time set by those who are constructing the same.

Forty million tons of ore are blocked out in the New Cornelia properties. The Ajo properties have not been touched for development yet, but they are solidly rich, according to every source of expert opinion.

FARMERS ON HAND AT U. A. SHORT COURSES

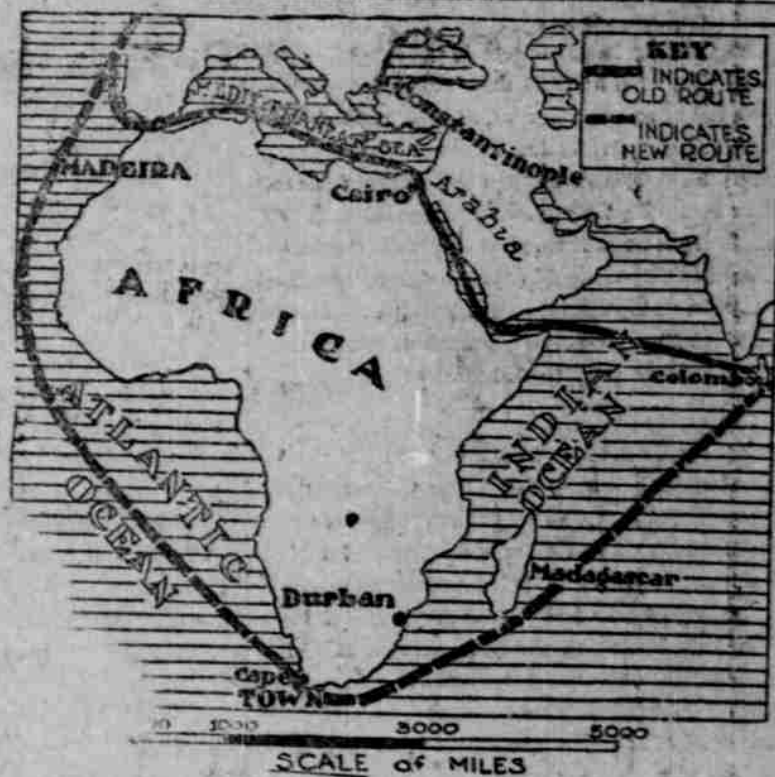

Increased Attendance of 50 Per Cent Indicates Growing Interest in Educational Instruction.

TUCSON, Jan. 4.—The registration for the Fourth Annual Farmers' Short Course at the University of Arizona on the opening day this year exceeded the registration of last year by over 50 percent, proving very clearly that the farmers of the state appreciate the value of the very practical instruction which is given at the University Short Course. Farmers from many sections of the state have arrived in Tucson, and many more are expected within the next day or two. Many residents of Tucson have also registered for the course. Those who are unable to attend all the lectures have made arrangements to attend as many as possible, especially such lectures as particularly interest them. This is a splendid opportunity for farmers in the vicinity of Tucson to come and hear those lectures which especially concern them, even though they are unable to attend the entire course. As the lectures are followed by a general discussion, an opportunity is afforded of obtaining information on any specific question concerning the subject of the lecture. The lectures held today in both the general agriculture and dairy sections were well attended, and a very successful two weeks' program is assured. Tomorrow will be devoted to fruits and vegetables.

The women of the state are again reminded that the Home Economics section of the Short Course begins next Monday, January 10, and lasts for three days. Every woman who can possibly attend these lectures and demonstrations will be amply repaid for her time in doing so.—U. of A. Agricultural Extension Service.

The prospects for peace in Mexico are also important to the railways of the southwest, particularly the Southern Pacific, the Rock Island and the El Paso.
